Promoting Jawraa's Portal: Strategies for University Outreach and Visibility

University Website Integration

Collaborate with JAAR to integrate the Jawraa portal link into their existing online systems and website, ensuring easy access for students and faculty.

Email And Social Media Campaigns

Utilize JAAR's email system and social media channels to promote the portal, focusing on targeted, informative communications about the benefits and how to access the portal.

Event Participation and QR Codes

Negotiate with JAAR to allow Jawraa to set up booths at major university events and workshops. Use these opportunities to showcase products and provide QR codes.

Physical Marketing at Key Locations

Distribute flyers and posters in high-traffic areas on campus.
